I live on the 35th floor of a block of flats in Hong Kong. I have a big living room with a balcony with a view of the park, a very modern kitchen, a bathroom and two small bedrooms. I haven't got a car so I haven't got a garage. But there is central heating and a lift, of course!

2

My home is a traditional Irish cottage in the southwest of Ireland. It's quite small but very comfortable for two people. There is no kitchen but there are cooking facilities in one corner of the living room. There is just one bedroom and next to it is the bathroom with a shower and a toilet. There is an open fire in the living room and there is a very good view of the sea. We have a big garden with a barbecue which we often use, even in winter. We keep the wood for it in the garage.

Our house is the perfect place for a family holiday. We have six bedrooms, three bathrooms and a huge kitchen. There is a dining room with enough room for twelve people but we often eat in the garden by the swimming pool. From the garden, there is a wonderful view of the Sydney Opera House. There is central heating but much more important, there is air conditioning. There is room for three cars in the garage.

Hi there!

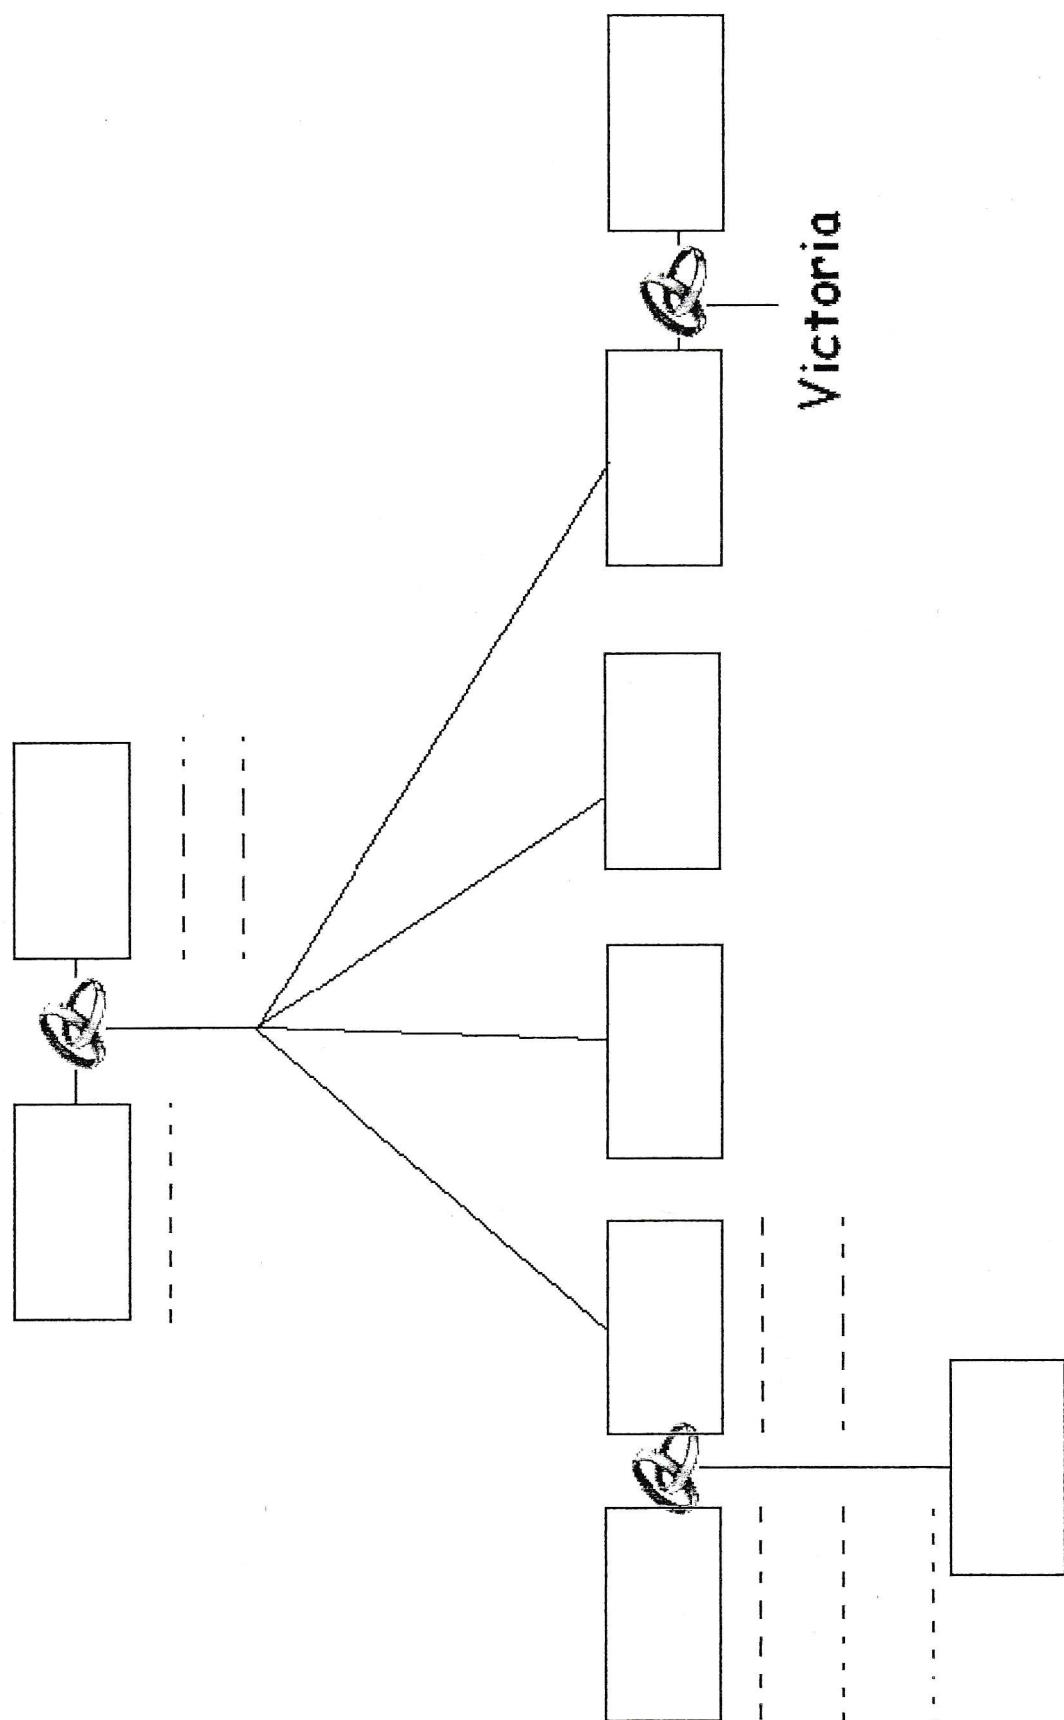

I'm in England at the moment to celebrate Christmas with my English relatives. Do you remember that my family is a little bit complicated? We live all around the world. Do you want to know more about the English part of my family?

About my aunt Maria. She's my father's sister and she married an Englishman. She has a baby whose name is Louisa. Maria's husband's name is David. Maria is a teacher and David's an architect. They live in a little town called Broadstairs, in the South of England. I don't see them very often since they live so far away.

Maria's parents are my grandparents of course. They live in Belgium. My grandparents' names are Henri and Francesca. Unusual name, isn't it? Unusual for a Belgian, but she's Italian. They've got 4 children, two boys and two girls. Their sons' names are Laurent and Bernard. Bernard is my father. He is married to Sally, my mother. My grandparents' daughters' names are Catarina and Maria. The girls have Italian names and the boys' names are French.
